Step One: Planning Your Destination

In 9th grade, you may not know exactly what you want to do or be after you graduate high school, and that's okay! But it's important to start thinking about what options appeal to you so you can begin imagining what you are working towards.

List at least two skills or talents you want to use in college or career.	List at least one passion or interest you want to explore in college or career.	List at least two options you are considering for college or career.
Ex: I'm creative and bilingual.	Ex: I want to care for others.	Ex: I am interested in going to college for nursing. I am also interested in working as a counselor or therapist. It's okay if you don't know exactly what you want to do! But please do not write "I don't know." What is a career or pathway you could be interested in exploring?

Step Two: Making Travel Plans

The choices you make now will determine what college or career options you have available to you after high school. Below, set at least one goal that will put you on the path towards college and career success.

What: Set one specific attendance, behavior, or grade goal that you can achieve by the end of the year.	How: List at least two things you will do to help you achieve your goal.	Why: Why is this goal important to you?
Ex: I am going to raise my English grade from a C to a B.	Ex: I am going to email my teacher about any missing assignments and I am going to take notes whenever I read for class.	Ex: I know that being a good writer will help me in all of my other classes.

Step Three: Vision Board

Would you show up for basketball practice every day if you never imagined making varsity or winning a championship game? Probably not. So it's important to imagine what it is that will motivate you to work hard every day in school. Find and copy below three (school appropriate) pictures or quotes that remind you of the life you are working towards by showing up for school each day.
